Some May Wonder

Peter and Andrew scarcely had any possessions. Just how much did they leave behind when the Lord called them to follow him? On this point we should look at their actions rather than at the level of their wealth. A man who has little and gives up everything to follow the Lord leaves behind a lot. Peter and Andrew left behind a lot. Yes, they left behind their meager material possessions (and for them that was a lot). But they also left behind something more – the very desire to own (which can lead to extreme greed, which is called covetousness). What will you leave behind to follow Christ? Are you attached to Christ or your stuff? Choose one.

A Note from Fr. Anthony

Dear parishioners,

We are delighted to host the very first Divine Liturgy of Fr. Mark Le Roy Monday evening at St. Mary's at 6:00pm. All are welcome to the liturgy. Dinner to follow for all those who RSVP'd.

Given the franticness of the schedule in recent weeks, the St. Mary's office will be closed Tuesday to Thursday. Additionally, there will be no liturgy Tuesday to Thursday this week. Please call my cell phone in the case of an emergency but save any non-urgent business for Friday or later.

This Saturday, June 13th we will have our first chant group practice at St. Mary's at 5:45 followed by Great Vespers at 7:00pm. The goal is to practice monthly in preparation for the group's debut on Friday, August 14th for the Dormition. All are welcome as there will be musical training provided for all skill levels.

In Christ,
Fr. Anthony

Second Sunday after Pentecost

Today's Gospel reading reveals a profound moment—the calling of the first disciples. As Jesus walks along the shore, He sees Simon Peter and Andrew, then James and John. With just a few words, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men," their lives are forever changed. They abandon their nets, their boats, and everything familiar to follow the Lord.

This passage is not just a historical event—it is a challenge to each of us. Christ's call is not a distant echo; it is alive today. He calls us to leave behind our distractions, our attachments to worldly comforts, and our fears. He invites us to embrace a life of faith, service, and transformation.

The disciples did not hesitate. They responded immediately, showing their deep trust in the Lord. And look what came of their obedience—the Gospel spread, the Church was built, and countless souls were brought to salvation.

In the Byzantine Catholic tradition, we are called to follow Christ wholeheartedly, just as the first disciples did. Whether we are parents, students, clergy, or workers, Christ asks us to be fishers of men—to lead others to Him through love, patience, and unwavering commitment to the faith.

Today, let us reflect: What is Christ calling us to leave behind? How can we follow Him more fully? May the Holy Spirit grant us the courage to say "Yes, Lord!" and walk in His light, trusting that He will guide our path.

The Fathers on Scripture

But note, both their faith and their obedience. For though they were in the midst of their work (and you know how time-consuming a chore fishing is), when they heard his command they did not delay or procrastinate. They did not say, "Let us return home and talk things over with our family." Instead, they "left everything behind" and followed," even as Elisha did when he followed Elijah. For Christ seeks this kind of obedience from us, such that we delay not even for a moment, though something absolutely most necessary should vehemently press in on us. (St. John Chrysostom, The Gospel of Matthew, Homily 14.2)
